

Historic Elk Landing

Head of Elk ~ Elkton MD

www.elklanding.org

Relax and Enjoy!

This just in...

We are happy to announce that Wade Whitlock of the Steppingstone Museum will be at Elk Landing on August 7th with his interactive wood working program. No stranger to The Landing, Wade has twice presented his wooden stool making project which has been enjoyed by young and old alike. Come and enjoy our spacious grounds, historic old houses, and carpentry all at the same time on Saturday August 7th!

When you look up the term “dog days of summer” in the dictionary, the summer of 2010 is pictured right there. It has been hot, hot, HOT! But you can forget about the heat and humidity at Historic Elk Landing. On Saturday August 7th between 10 and 2 come down to The Landing and enjoy the shade of some of our great trees, a slight breeze off the Little Elk Creek, and stroll our 44 acres of historic park land. Bring a picnic, a Frisbee, football, beach blanket, and/or some good summer time reading material and relax. You can combine your day of leisure with a short dose of local history by touring our 2, two-hundred plus year old mansions that played important rolls in both Cecil County and Elkton’s history as well as the history of our nation. And remember, the Hollingsworth House is air conditioned!

Historic Elk Landing is located just south of Route 40 at the foot of Landing Lane. Admission is free and the Hollingsworth House is handicapped accessible. Check us out on Facebook and soon our reconstructed web site.